

To Whom It May Concern:

I began my quest to locate a daycare program for my eldest son, who is now seven, five years ago. I contacted Little People's Place, Inc., and was immediately pleased with the clean, print-rich classroom setting. The Executive Director was most welcoming and the teacher's were caring, patient individuals; I knew that my search had ended. My son made a positive transition to being in the classroom and his socialization skills improved tremendously. Now, five years later, my twenty eight month old son is attending Little People's Place, Inc. and awakes every morning enthusiastically saying, "I'm going to the big kids school." He is benefiting a great deal from the program, as he is able to say his alphabet, he can count to fifteen, and he has such a desire to read. He comes home with art projects that he has completed at the daycare and he is proud to have done them. The staff is pleasant and his teacher's keep me informed of his day-to-day activities and progressions.

I am very pleased to know that Little People's Place, Inc. is starting a Scholarship Program for toddlers so that more children can reap the benefits of being in a quality daycare program.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Macklin-Barnes
